They are; Hampton Hawes, piano; Carol Kaye, bass; Roy Burns, drums; Mundell Lowe, guitar; John Handy, alto saxophone; Bobby Bryant, trumpet and Kai Winding, trombone.

That evening, 8 p.m. in the College Gymnasium the seven judges will perform as will three high school band finalists in the competition. The winning high school band will be invited to perform at the 16th Annual Monterey Jazz Festival set for September 21, 22, 23.

The All-Star band will also be invited to play at the Hearing On Bus Service Scheduled

A public hearing on the application of the Bay Rapid Transit Company to discontinue bus service on the peninsula will be held May 31 at 10 a.m. at the Estrada Adobe in Monterey.

Randall B. Ward, president of BRT, said he was notified of the hearing date by the Public Utilities Commission. May 31 is also the date for which Ward filed application to discontinue service.

Prior to submitting his application to the PUC, Ward asked the public transit joint powers agency (composed of peninsula cities and the county) to increase it $3,000 monthly subsidy of the firm and also to underwrite a $9,000 loan Ward made to BRT.

The agency refused Ward's requests at an April meeting saying that the firm should abide by its original agreement which was to continue in effect until September 30.

Every efficient office has a "round file," and our is no exception. You should see ours, it is a mess. There are things in our round file that were dumped there weeks, or even months ago and just lay dormant waiting for some energetic columnist or writer, or just plain me to happen along.

So I happened. Digging down a bit deeply I chanced upon an Easter story I had planned to publish but other things took priority. Why they should have taken priority over this particular bit of writing I do not know.

What we are going to do is turn back the hands of time and just pretend that this is a timely little story. It is:

"The man was restless. Lingered, but not disabling illness fragmented his sleep.

"Somehow that execution two days ago had disturbed him far beyond any in his long experience in the legions of Rome. It was that one man. The two on either side of him were nobodies...oh, they were humans, of course, but the young rebel in the middle was somebody.

"There was talk that he claimed to be the Jewish Messiah, that he was God. But he had died...like the others.

"Not quite like them, actually. And this was what disturbed the Roman. On duty at the execution he had kept away from the vulgar antics of some of his men. He couldn't help watching that agonized face on the center cross. Agonized, yet radiant, even beautiful. He had felt a glow of warmth...like something he had felt many years before. When? Where?

"At one point the dying rebel seemed to look directly at him. It wasn't a smile on his face, but the look said what a smile would say. And then there were words. Words directed at one of the other two, yet somehow they seemed meant for him. He didn't understand them all but five

Seniors' Tax Aid Forms Mailed

The Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance claim forms for 1973 are now being mailed to prospective claimants, according to State Controller, Houston I. Flournoy.

The forms will be mailed to the 313,000 persons who filed claims last year, as well as to individuals who have already requested forms, Flournoy said. Other persons who believe they may qualify should write or contact the nearest Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Office.

Assistance payments totaling $59 million were paid to claimants last year, Flournoy said, for an average of $202 each. This represented more than seven times the $8.3 million paid out in 1971, which significantly revised eligibility requirements, resulting in a greatly expanded program for 1972.

Under the present provisions, eligible senior citizens must be over 62 years of age, own and occupy their home, have paid property taxes on the home and have an income of less than $10,000.

Claim forms and further assistance may also be obtained by writing to Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, P.O. Box 1588, Sacramento, CA 95807.

A total of 463 claimants in Monterey County received a total of $55,193 assistance last year, Flournoy said.

Claims for assistance must be filed after May 15, 1973 and before midnight October 15, 1973. Claimants are advised to file as early as possible.

Today's Army
NEWS
By
SSG R. Cardwell
ARMY RECRUITER

Have you ever considered the profession as a social or correctional worker? If not, you might be missing out on an interesting career. Harvard professor and former Presidential Advisor Daniel Patrick Moynihan once remarked that correctional institutions "contain men admirably well, but do not rehabilitate them and, in fact, make them worse." This is unfortunate because many men return to their towns and communities embittered, in no way prepared to lead stable, productive lives. There are signs that efforts to change this are meeting with success. New programs intended to help reorient to the world they will shortly encounter are currently being implemented in many parts of the country. The emphasis is now being shifted from containing to resocializing.

Social and correctional workers involved in this resocialization process will be under great pressure in the coming years. The public will be demanding. They will want proof that work release and furlough programs are working and contributing to the social order and not just increasing the danger level of their streets and cities.

Young people interested in social and correctional work will find the competition keen. TODAY'S ARMY can assist them in that field with good training and good practical experience. Plus while being trained they will receive over $300 monthly to start learning their job. In addition, they will receive FREE room and board, complete medical and dental care and 30 paid vacation days annually. And under the provisions of a recent option, they will now be able to choose the installation at which they would like to work.

Correctional Specialists in TODAY'S ARMY supervise the correctional treatment programs for men in the stockades. They assist these men in the identification of their particular problem and work with them toward solving it. Though stepping into this position depends on openings, any young person with aptitude, proper motivation and training will be able to enjoy an Army job in this field.

It is challenging work. It is also very important work. And it is an excellent preparation for optimistic young people who would someday wish to help make society as decent a place they had hoped.

For more information about jobs in TODAY'S ARMY please contact us at 431-Webster St., Monterey, or call 372-4742/372-0553.

NPS Gas Station Restricts Hours

The Naval Postgraduate School Service Station has begun to curtail its hours of operation because of a reduction in the amount of fuel available for the months of May and June. Under the new schedule, the service station will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. It will no longer be in operation on Saturday. The new hours are expected to remain in effect until June 30.

Education Check May Be Late

If you are getting a monthly check from the Veterans Administration for attending a school below college level, don't count on that final check for a while, because the school cannot certify attendance until after the end of the enrollment period.

This reminder was given today for veterans and dependents in G.I. Bill-type training below college level, by Joseph E. Mullen

Director of the San Francisco Veterans Administration Regional Office.

Mullen pointed out that this year's final checks will be paid on the same schedule as last year's but they may seem late because this year's checks for other months were sent earlier than last year.

A change made in law last October made education benefits payable at the first of the month rather than at the end of the month. But the law still requires that the final check be held up until each student's attendance is certified by his school.

This means that students whose school programs end in June won't get a check on the first of June. For the student whose school ends June 15, for example, a check for May normally would have been received early in May. But, the June check will be held until after school ends and a certificate of attendance signed by the veteran and the school is sent to the VA.

at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights. On Sunday, May 27, the show will be a matinee, beginning at 2 p.m., followed by an outdoor barbequed chicken dinner with all the trimmings!

General admission will be $2. The Sunday matinee with dinner will cost only $4.50.

Harold Lipset's topic is "The Invasion of Your Privacy." He will speak at 8 p.m. in the MPC Armory on Friday, May 25.

Lipset's appearance is being sponsored by the MPC Community Services Office. Tickets are $1 for the lecture.

On June 1, San Francisco County Sheriff Richard D. Hongisto will give the last lecture of the series on "The Crime of Punishment."

Beware Of 'Bait And Switch'

"BAIT AND SWITCH," a common violation of acceptable advertising procedures, is illegal in California, yet many consumers still fall victim every year. To protect yourself, you must know what is involved in this type of deceptive advertising. Here is what happens:

A company or store will place an advertisement for an item at an extremely low price, but, when a customer goes to the store and attempts to purchase the advertised product, he is switched to another one that is more expensive. In other words, you are lured into the store, "baited" by promises of great savings, only to find that the salesman is now attempting to "switch" you to a much higher priced item.

The reasons give why the advertised product should not be bought include:

1. The advertised product "was sold out just ten minutes ago."
2. Your size is out of stock.
3. There is no guarantee on the advertised product.
4. The parts of the advertised product are impossible to replace because the company has gone out of business.

5. The advertised product is inferior or defective.

Many variations of these reasons are given to unaware consumers. I is the store's responsibility to provide a sufficient quantity of an advertised product. Stores are NOT permitted to advertise for the purpose of attracting customers with the intent of pressuring them into buying a more expensive product.

The DEPARTMENT OF CONSUMER AFFAIRS warns California consumers who feel they are being "switched" to leave the store. DON'T BE PRESURED INTO BUYING!!! DON'T HESITATE TO SAY NO!!!

Joe Dolan
SEASIDE YOUTH

The YOUNG PEOPLE of Seaside deserve praise, commendations, and recognition for their exemplary behavior! Six short months ago, the community was experiencing vandalism and destruction to property, that, if continued, would have resulted in serious degradation of our City.

In reversing the trend of destruction, our young people have shown that they also care and have pride for their City. Very shortly, our community schools will commence the summer vacation period and our young people will be looking forward to outside activities.

The City Parks and Recreation Department will be publicizing a variety of programs - including Mini-bike, Softball, Baseball, Pre-School and many others. However, in order to bring the level of recreation services to that which is at a minimal standard in other cities, we must do more by expanding our youth facilities.

Current, our Young People are assisting in the Youth Fund Drive by canvassing every home in the City. They are asking for contributions to help pay for the urgently needed toilet facilities at David Cutino Park and to expand the Youth Center on Wheeler. Our Young People more than deserve your support.

Seaside is truly a Brotherhood City! Anywhere the people will go out of their way to demonstrate that they care about others in a wonderful place to live, work and raise our children.

You can show your support and understanding - and, "Thanks to our Youth," by contributing to the Youth Fund Drive.

When a youngster knocks at your door, show him or her that you really care! Thanks again!

Your Supervisor Reports

I am pleased to report that the county administration is backing my suggestion to provide welfare and public health facilities in Seaside by placing at least $100,000 in the proposed county budget for the next fiscal year. I am hopeful that the same county philosophy which has upgraded medical services at General Hospital in Salinas will also support better medical services in Seaside. If a citizen needs medical help and is not eligible for welfare, Medi-Cal or military assistance and does not have sufficient funds, the total answer is not to say "go to the General Hospital in Salinas." This Friday I will be attending a meeting of The Community Health Committee of the Medical Staff of Community Hospital at that hospital. If you have any experience or thoughts on the subject of the availability of medical care in Seaside, I would appreciate your calling me at 373-0046.

Saturday night my wife and I were privileged to attend a dinner dance sponsored by the Guam Club of Monterey. Mr. John Manibusan, the President of the club, and his fellow officers and members certainly provided an evening of excellent food and entertainment. It was a pleasure to meet Mr. Jesse Torres who is the Special Assistant to the Honorable Carlos Camacho, the Governor of Guam. Mr. Torres was asked by the Governor to represent him. We are lucky on the Monterey Peninsula to have so many fine organizations like the Guam Club who are interested in honoring and preserving their respective customs and traditions and to share them with their community.

burned into his mind and heart. . . walk with me in paradise. . .

"He slept a little, then was awakened by the sun. But it was too early for the sun. It was that glow he had seen and felt on Golgotha, and somewhere else long before. Then he remembered.

"The little town, the silent night, the young couple he had helped find a cave near the crowded inn where their child could be born. And the light that had been born with that child!

"This was that light...a light that had truly been a God-send during long and difficult years. This was that child, the man who on the cross had said 'walk with me...'

"His sleeplessness was over. For all time." Our little "round file" is stuffed with material and notes that are jotted down in haste, or jest, or merely tossed there for safe keeping. Once in a while someone comes along and dumps the file, making room for new material to pile up. Otherwise we would need a basket as large as the office we work out of.

This is the way a person's mind should be handled. You see or think of material that can be used in the future, or you think may be used in the future and you file it away in your mind. Ever so often you rummage through your mind and discard what you no longer need, and bring the rest up to date. You would be surprised what you may find. But be careful not to keep it so full that new material cannot fit. You never know when you may need room for a paragraph or two.

The same has to apply to people who run through your life. Hold on to the important one, and once in a while review your list and discard the ones who didn't make it to the "friendship" level. Then you will always have room for that true friend who may be just around the corner.

Before I put an end to this little column, let me ask a question: How many of you have ever read Eric Berne's "Games People Play"? It should be a must in every household. All of my friends have either read their own, or have read mine. The copy I have was purchased by me a few years ago while I was on the S.S. Lurline enroute to Honolulu. And it has been through the mills. But still it is in fair condition.

Dr. Berne has said "Most people, in most of their family and business relationships, are constantly playing games with each other. What's more," he continues, "they are striving (often unconsciously) for an emotional 'payoff' which is startlingly different from what they might rationally expect to get from winning or losing their games."

In my copy of "Games," there are about 120 games which people jump, fall or get pushed into. But he also gives you the tried and proven, intellectually elegant anti-game with which to liberate yourself from each game whenever you say so.

I shall one of these days be in a position to tell you of a game that was recently played on me, a game Dr. Berne had no retaliatory solution because even he never envisioned such a thing.

Meanwhile, the wall on the clock just struck. . . oh well, when you're out of beer. . . it's Schlitz.

Andy Barragan is feeling well, and holding up his finger for me to "cool it," so I shall. Meanwhile, keep your upper lip stiff.

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

by Verlaine Crawford,
Executive Director

It was a really big weekend and one of the highlights was the opening of Wester Porsche-Audi in the Monterey Peninsula Auto Center, and it is really a beautiful dealership with great people working there.

The Chamber is busy working on the Independence Day Parade, which will be on Sunday, July 1, this year. It will be held on Del Monte and Broadway, with the reviewing stand on Broadway. Applications must be in fairly soon.

More new members have joined the Chamber five this month. The Membership Committee, headed by Ed Fisher of Security Savings in Seaside, is planning a mixer for members and non-members in June. Remember, membership in the Chamber is an investment in the future of Seaside.

The Military Affairs Committee, chaired by Ray Stepniak of MBS and Sgt. Bill Brown of Fort Ord, is busy working with all the other Chambers of the Peninsula to plan an old-fashioned picnic at the Gaigrgrounds in October. This should really be fun, with play-offs in sporting events between the military and business community teams. A giant barbecue and activities for youngsters are also planned.

The Career Education Mini-Seminars are winding to a close this month, with the topic being careers in medicine. Seminars have been held at Seaside High and will be at Monterey High School this week. These informal seminars help the students to be able to make decisions for their future careers. At the medical seminar there was an administrator, a nursing instructor, a laboratory technician, an X-Ray Technician and a dietician. It was very interesting, with a huge turnout of students, who had many questions to ask.

Can brownouts or blackouts happen here?

There have been no brownouts or blackouts here because PG&E has built new electric facilities on schedule as needed.

But if our construction program is slowed down unduly or stopped, there definitely can be brownouts or blackouts here. We build ahead to prevent such problems. And we must continue building, because nowadays it takes up to ten years and even more to acquire a suitable site, obtain regulatory approvals, construct and get a major power plant "on the line."

Some people claim growth should be slowed down, thereby reducing the need for more power plants.

But the fact is that power demands are continuing to increase. And PG&E must meet these demands reliably, and on time, or there will be power shortages.

We are doing our job now and are ready, willing and able to keep on doing it. Moreover, qualified, competent and responsible public agencies assure that in doing so we serve the best public interests, including environmental and ecological considerations.

To keep your electricity on tomorrow, we must build today. PG&E

KZEN Says Good Bye To Packer

Wilbert Packer was honored at a testimonial dinner given by the owners and staff of KZEN-FM Stereo Radio.

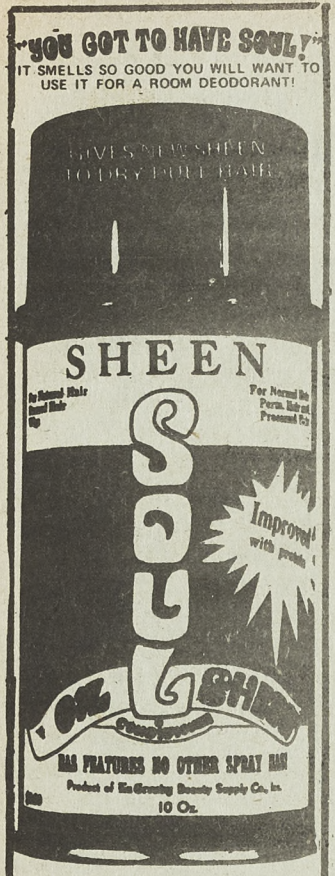

Packer's farwell performance was Sunday, May 13th. For the last six months, Packer has been the disk jockey on weekend afternoons for 12:00 til 4. He has also done production work and has in general been of great service to KZEN in its formative stage.

For this, Packer was honored with a testimonial dinner at the Outrigger on Cannery Row.

Though all members of the station hate to see him go, only good will and good times were had at the dinner, with the only tears of sadness being those of Leonard Kesselman, the owner, when he received the check.

All the members of KZEN wish Packer success in all he does and hope that we can carry on in a way to make him proud to say he is a part of KZEN.
